THIS HERE PLANT

Is Run to Furnish Work for Us Folks!

There's always a few ambitious knuckleheads that think they gotter to get with it and make money for the boss, not carin' how hard they make it for the rest of us to make out without havin' to work half the time ourselves.

A business is strong when we workers stick together and back the New Frontier; so we should all loaf the same & take our time & fraternize like all get out to show 'em we're strong & not jest gutless union sissies.

A Mountaineer's

MACKLE

Ever had the inkling to build your own California Job Case to avoid paying the going price of around $9.00 for a new one?

If so, I say forget it, and I speak from experience. It's really not worth it!

Recently, I got four used cases in "very poor" condition, as advertised, from Turnbaugh Service in Mechanicsburg, Pa. After replacing the bottoms and some of the webbing in these, I decided it wouldn't be too hard to do the entire job myself.

Was I ever in for a surprise, as I discovered after four hours' work making the frame alone, with all the notches along its sides. I did finish it, in time, but over ten hours' labor was put into the job.

There was no material cost because I made all the pieces from scrap wood. The case turned out very nicely, and now holds a font of 6 point Century Expanded.

By far, buying cases and rebuilding them is the best way to get more cases cheaply. The used cases cost $1.65 apiece; about $1 is a good guess for shipping; and it costs around 75c for a piece of quarter-inch plywood for a new bottom. Add a little work and you have a "new" typecase.

I always give rebuilt cases one coat of shellac after completion because it seems to help reduce dust in compartments after being in use a while.

If you can help me identify the 12 point text type above, you will help me solve a mystery that has plagued me and others for quite some time. RICHARD L. HOPKINS, 1226 Oakmont Road, Charleston 4, West Virginia.

- Why Not Think -

It's a little thing to do,
Just to think.
Anyone, no matter who,
Ought to think.
Take a little time each day--
From the minutes thrown away;
Spare it from your work or play--
Stop and think!--

You will find that men who fail
Do not think.
Men who find themselves in jail
Do not think.
Half the trouble that we see,
Trouble brewed for you and me
Probably would never be
If we'd think.

Shall we, then consider this?
Shall we think?
Shall we journey, hit or miss,
Or shall we think?
Let's not go along by guess,
But rather to ourselves confess
It would help us, more or less,
If we'd think!

I do not know who the author is of the above poem, but I liked it so much I decided to copy it for others to see. It was sent to me by a good pen pal & so I am happy to thank both of you.

How About a Few Laughs?

HOLLY WOULD -- A girl returning to the farm after living in Hollywood, found her father saddled with a thirteen-thousand-dollar mortgage and offered to pay it off. Her father was quite surprised and asked if she had been a good girl while away from home. She replied: "Father, to make thirteen thousand dollars in Hollywood, a girl has to be good."

Two women who had not seen each otfor a long time met on the street. "Oh, Mary!" one exclaimed. "So many things have happened to me since I saw you last. I've had all my teeth taken outand a new stove and refrigerator put in.

IN A San Francisco cemetery, a visitor noticed a very old Chinaman placing a bowl of rice on a grave. What time do you expect your friend to come up and eat the rice?" the visitor asked,
The Chinaman smiled: "Same time your friend come up to smell the flowers,"

IT HAPPENED while the applicant for a mail carrier's job was being interviewed & tested. Interviewer: "Young man, how far is it from the earth to the moon?"
Applicant: "I don't really know, but if that's the only route open, I don't want the job."

The type used on the reverse of this sheet was cast by FARMER, LITTLE AND CO., New York, about 1880.
It was called, I believe, LIGHT FACE CELTIC. It measures out to be about 17 points, which has not been used since 1888.
